ASSIGNMENT BACKGROUND

Security Financial Services, a division of Security National Bank, provides personal investment counseling and special banking services for individuals whose net worth exceeds one million dollars. The division was founded in 2005 to provide both a broader range of custom products and services and more personal attention to high-deposit customers. Security was the first bank in South Florida to provide this service. Since that time, all banks in Security's market area have offered similar programs and most have promoted them aggressively.

To date, the three-hundred-plus customers of the division have been acquired solely through referrals by officers of the bank's fifteen retail outlets. There has been no advertising and there is no literature to explain the division's products and services, or how they differ from that offered by other, competitive banks.

ASSIGNMENT OBJECTIVES

- 1) To broadly support a marketing campaign that will seek to double Security Financial Service's customer base within the next twelve months.
- 2) To fulfill the estimated 3,000 literature requests that will result from Security's "Talk to a Specialist" advertising campaign due to begin in December 2006 and run through April 2007. The material produced must key off the ad that will be producing the requests.
- 3) To provide literature that introduces the full range of the division's many services to its existing customers who may know of only one Security service.
- 4) To help educate and motivate all bank personnel about the "state of the art" nature of the products and services provided by Security Financial Services.

PRODUCTION AND SCHEDULING REQUIREMENTS

To design, write, and oversee production of a brochure that explains the immediate and long-term benefits of using Security Financial Services to handle a wealthy individual's financial and estate planning.

The brochure produced can be up to 20 pages (16 text plus cover) and utilize full color. Quantity will be 25,000. There are no restrictions on style, but it is desired that the brochure focus on the higher quality personal service provided by Security. A PDF version of the brochure with interactive links will also be produced.

Due to the lack of any literature at present, and the formal announcement of the division's marketing campaign at a sales meeting starting on November 12, the brochure must be delivered by November 10, 2006.

SAVANT ASSOCIATES' EXPERIENCE

Savant Associates is a Miami firm specializing in communications and graphic design services for businesses throughout the southeast. Our firm was founded in 1999 by John J. Creative and Sarah S. Smart who combined over twenty years of corporate communications experience. Previously Mr. Creative was Vice President and Creative Director for Outstanding Advertising of Fort Lauderdale; Ms Smart was Vice President of Marketing and Strategic Planning for Swamp Land Development Corporation of Hialeah.

Since its founding in 1999, Savant Associates has built an impressive reputation for producing materials and programs that are strongly market-focused, yet are also tasteful and contemporary.

We have worked for small firms and large, startups and those well established. Some of our more prominent clients have been: Cuba Libre Airlines... Belle Glade Jai Alai Fronton... Delectable Ugly Fruit... Barely An Island Bahamas Spa & Resort... and HelpingHand Medical Centers. Projects have included advertisements, brochures, sales literature, package design, store displays Web-page design, and corporate identity programs.

Our extensive financial services experience includes working with South Florida Savings & Loan, Coral Gables Municipal Savings Bank, and Retirement Funds Investments. (See pages 13 and 14 for examples.) Assignments for these and other institutions have included the production of annual reports, product sales literature, and identity and signage programs. We are not currently working for any other financial services institution.

Savant Associates currently has a staff of ten who encompass a wide range of design and marketing skills. If we are granted this assignment, strategic planning and account service will be handled by company principal Sarah S. Smart; creative development and project management will be handled by company principal John J. Creative.

SAVANT ASSOCIATES' APPROACH

Phase I — Information Gathering

First Meeting

The Savant Associates account team of Sarah S. Smart and John J. Creative will meet with Security Financial Services to clarify objectives, identify subjective preferences, discuss possible thematic approaches, and uncover potential marketing problems.

In addition to Sally Client, we suggest this meeting include Laurie Jameson, Vice President of Marketing; Craig Heritage, Group Vice President; Vicki Montenegro, Account Supervisor, Florida; and any other bank personnel who can contribute to the overview of opportunities, concerns and potential problems.

In addition, we suggest that representatives of Bamboozle & Bamboozle provide a briefing of their "Talk to a Specialist" advertising campaign strategy, creative approach, and fulfillment requirements.

We also suggest that any previously developed materials or information on the division and its competition be made available to us.

Second Meeting

Based upon the overview obtained in the first meeting, John J. Creative will interview Sally Client and Craig Heritage to gather the specific detail and information needed to write and art direct the brochure.

Schedule

To assure meeting your deadline of having brochures for the sales meeting on November 12, we suggest that the first meeting be scheduled the week of September 7. The second meeting should happen a week or so later, ideally during the week of September 14.

Phase II — Idea Development

Concepts

Based on the input from the two meetings with your staff, Savant Associates will develop up to three conceptual, or rough, approaches to the brochure. A cover treatment and one spread from one of these approaches, our recommendation, will be rendered full-size, in color, along with a quarter-size dummy (mock up) of the entire brochure. Also developed will be an outline of the copy.

Third meeting

At this meeting we will present our approaches to Sally Client and Craig Heritage. Input from this meeting will be used to set the final direction for the brochure.

Schedule

We anticipate that the third meeting (conceptual presentation) will take place approximately two weeks after the second (detailed input), ideally the week of September 28.

Phase III — Development and Approval

Photography

We will select the photographer and supervise the taking of photographs. We will ask Security to help us in making arrangements and providing technical supervision during each photographic session.

Writing

We will develop copy in keeping with the direction provided at the third meeting and submit drafts to Sally Client for approval.

Design

We will execute the design approved at the third meeting and will coordinate and integrate the copy when it is approved. We will set type and prepare electronic (printing) artwork for the approval of Sally Client.

Schedule

We anticipate that first copy draft will be completed approximately one week after the third meeting, ideally the week of October 5. Final draft will be completed approximately one week later, ideally the week of October 12.

We anticipate photography to be done during the week of October 12.

We anticipate that color laser proofs will be available for review three weeks after the third meeting, ideally the week of October 19. Final approval of the proofs will be necessary by October 27.

Phase IV — Printing and Delivery

Printer selection

Savant Associates will ask for bids from three printers and recommend one of the three based on a combination of cost and quality factors. Selection will be made by Security Financial Services.

Print Supervision

Savant Associates will oversee printing of the brochure, giving instructions to the printer, supervising color separations and corrections, and checking proofs. However, Security Financial Services will have ultimate responsibility for the accuracy of the brochure as indicated by a signed approval of the final blue line (salt print) or similar proof.

Schedule.

Printing and binding of 25,000 four-color, 20-page brochures will take approximately two weeks from the time final, approved materials are turned over to the printer. Assuming that approval is received by October 27, delivery by November 9 is feasible.

PDF delivery

A PDF copy of the brochure with interactive links will be begun at the time printing materials are delivered to the printer. We anticipate delivery of the completed PDF one week later.

Project Timing

Note: the delivery of this brochure by the required date requires close adherence to the schedule outline above. Delivery cannot be guaranteed unless critical dates are met.

EXAMPLE OF SAVANT FINANCIAL EXPERIENCE

(Illustration here)

The symbol of South Florida Savings and Loan is one of the most recognizable in the state. Because it is so strongly identified with the organization, any change is risky. Yet an organization's visual identity must also be strong and contemporary, or its market position can suffer.

Updating South Florida's symbol while also protecting it and building upon its equity was the challenge faced by Savant Associates.

The result of our efforts is a symbol with a much friendlier, more contemporary feeling. Equally important, along with it we developed a comprehensive corporate identity manual. It informs employees about the invaluable asset the symbol represents, and provides guidelines for its use on media ranging from calling cards, to ads, to company vehicles, to signage, to external electronic communications.

(Illustration here)

For Retirement Funds Investments we were asked to audit their communications programs to employees, shareholders, and customers. What we found were sporadic efforts that were expensive in terms of confusion, redundancies, and missed marketing opportunities.

Our challenge was to create an economical, effective, and coordinated program.

The result is a redesigned “RIF Weekly,” the newsletter for employees; annual reports that further reinforce the company’s market positioning; a new quarterly house organ, “The Sentinel,” sent to all customers; and “The Electronic Sentinel” an electronic supplement sent by e-mail to all customers.
